A Chapter of the American Physiological Society

2026 Annual Meeting

October 23–24, 2026

Wright State University, Dayton, Ohio

Keynote Speaker

Jan Michael Williams, PhD

Professor of Pharmacology & Toxicology
University of Mississippi Medical Center

“From Insulin Resistance to Renal Injury: Mechanisms
Linking Childhood Obesity to Kidney Disease”

Physiology | Molecular Mechanisms | Pharmacology | Translational Research

A vibrant conference bringing together principal investigators, postdoctoral scholars, and students from across Ohio (University of Cincinnati, Ohio University, University of Toledo, Ohio State University, Case Western University, NEOMed University, Miami University, and Wright State University, plus many others). OPS provides an excellent opportunity for undergraduate students, graduate students, and other early career researchers to present their work in a friendly, supportive atmosphere.
